

The duplicate rate is a function of the precision it is measured at

Precision at which two rows are compared

Significant digits retained, increasing left to right; the final point is the full precision printed in the released CSVs.
The dashed segment spans 9-16 digits, which were not sampled.